7. REFERÈNCIES

[1] Blum, H. Èinspannungsverhaeltnisee bei Bohlwerken. Wilh. Ernst und Sohn, Berlín, 1931.

[2] Terzaghi, K. Anchored bulkheads. Transactions, ASCE, Vol. 119, 1954.

[3] Rowe., P.W. Anchored sheet-pile wals. Proc. Inst. Civil Eng., Part 1, Vol. 1, London, 1952.

[4] Danish Geotechnical Institute. Code of practice for foundation engineering. Bulletin No. 22. Copenhagen, 1966.

[5] Tschebotarioff, G.P. Retaining structures. Foundation Engineering (ed. G.A. Leonards). McGraw-Hill, New York, 1962.

[6] Rowe, P.W. A theorical and experimental analysis of sheet-pile walls. Proc. Inst. Civil Eng. Part 1, Vol. 1, London, 1955.

[7] Peck, R.B. Deep excavations and tunnelling in soft ground. General Report. 7th Int. Conf. Soil Mech. Found. Eng., Mexico, 1969.

[8] Haliburton, T.A. Soil-structure interaction. Technical Publication, Vol. 14, Oklahoma State University.

[9] Terzaghi, K. Theorical Soil Mechanics. Editorial John Wiley & Sons, 1943.

[10] Jiménez Salas, J.A., Justo Alpañez, J.L.& Serrano Gonzalez. Geotecnia y Cimientos II. Editorial Rueda, Cap. 4, Madrid, 1976.

[11] Caquout, A. & Kerisel, J. Tables for the calculation of passive pressure, active pressure and bearing capacity of foundations. Gauthier-Villars, Paris, 1948.

[12] MOP. Recomendaciones geotécnicas para el proyecto de obras marítimas y portuarias (ROM 0.5-94), 1994.

[13] Clough, G.W. and O'Rourke, Th. D. Construction induced movements on in situ walls. Design and performance of earth retaining structures, Ed. Lambe and Hansen, ASCE, G.S.P. No. 25, p. 439-470, 1990.

[14] BD 42/00. Design of Embedded Retaining Walls and Abutments. Highways Agency Technical Memorandum, London, 2000.

[15] Design of pile foundations. Technical engineering and design guides as adapted from the US Army Corps of Engineers, No. 1, ASCE, New York, 1993.

[16] Boscardin, M.D. and Cording. E.J. Building response to excavation-induced settlement. J.Geot. Eng., ASCE, Vol. 115, No.1, p.1-21.

[17] H.P. 8-96. Recomendaciones para el proyecto, construcción y control de anclajes al terreno. Colegio de Ingenieros de Caminos, Canales y Puertos, Asociación Técnica del Pretensado e Instituto de la Construcción Eduardo Torroja, Madrid, 1996.