THE ARRIVAL AND THE ENVIRONMENT

Most important is the building and the impact on the environment around it. The building is surrounded by green and natural spaces, creating places for socializing and opportunities for healthy daily life. The use of the space is flexible, allowing for the needs of the community to be adapted, either to daily activities or events and programs depending on the occasion.