

- red
The color of roses; most often found in painted facades.

- brown
A chocolate-like or wooden color; most often associated with wood, brick, cor-ten steel, aggregate panels, or painted surfaces.

- light orange
The color of orange blossoms; a very common shade for bricks.

- light brown
Often appearing with a yellowish or creamy cast; associated with limestone, brick, aggregate panels, and certain shades of unpainted concrete; also common as a painted color.

