8. FURTHER RESEARCH

Since this was the first contact with Ethiopia of the GRECDH (“Grup de Recerca en Cooperació per al Desenvolupament Humà”, research team on human development cooperation) a lot of information has been taken for further researches in terms of urban development and upgrading programmes:

- On one hand, more urban upgrading programmes should be studied for a good statistical analysis of the relation between the upgrading activities and its investment per beneficiary.

- On the other hand, for a better knowledge of the prices of its activity, further research should be done closer to NGOs in order to be provided with price lists that enable a better knowledge of the accounting of the projects.

- More research could be done to analyse the parcel out, infrastructure coverage and housing situation of Addis Ababa from an historical point of view, analysing closely the formal and informal growth and the institutional responds to the different demands.

- Finally, for a global analysis of the development cooperation in Ethiopia, more NGOs, religious organizations and development agencies should be considered for analysing exactly the evolution of all kind of organizations involved on development cooperation aspects.
